Who was Savitribai Phule ?

Savitribai Phule was a woman educationist and a social reformer, she alongside her husband contributed significantly during the British rule for the improvement of women's rights in the country. She was a social reformer of India who was born in a wealthy farmer's family. Savitribai Phule was the first female teacher of India's first women school. Savitribai Phule was also a poet and was considered as a pioneer of Marathi poetry. Her husband encouraged her to get properly educated and engage herself in the liberation of the female folk of Naigaum. In the year 1852, a school for untouchable girls was opened by Savitribai Phule.
